TO THE PUBLIC.

OUR suit, in the late Circuit Court of the United States, at Hartford, Conn., against Josiah Dunfert, and others, having established our right under the patent of William Lawrence, for the CHAUVELIER OR HANGING LAMP, a second time, and decided that the UNION or FISH LAMP, of Alonso Plat, is an invasion of our right; we hereby notify all persons to abstain from the use of said Union or Fish Lamp. Those having the charge of public buildings, as well as all others, are requested not to suffer the use of those Lamps. We have been at great expense in purchasing the patent, and hope that a sense of justice will deter all persons from interfering with our rights; but as this notice is disregarded, we shall be compelled to shield ourselves from injustice, if there is power in the law to do it.

NATH'L BACON,
WM. PLUMB, 2d.
Middletown, Sept. 29, 1837.

RUPTURE OR HERNIA CURED. PERSONS afflicted with Rupture, may be permanently cured by wearing THOMPSON'S PATENT TRUSS.

Hundreds have been cured by it within the past year. Their certificates may be seen, and references given at the Agent's rooms.

The Truss is a new principle and the experience of multitudes, who have tried every other kind, proves the superiority of this.

It is convenient and easy to wear, and is warranted to keep the rupture perfectly secure, so that the wearer may walk, ride, or attend to any kind of business, as well as though he had no rupture, and in a short time, it will in most cases, effect a perfect cure.

Numerous Physicians and Surgeons who have examined this, concur in giving it a decided preference to every other Truss. A bare examination will convince any one that this Truss is a true and perfect Truss. Call and see.

Any purchaser may try it, and if dissatisfied return the Truss and receive his money.

DAVID MEAD, Agent, at Pearson's Apothecary Shop, corner of Winter and Washington streets, Boston.

Terrible quantity of grasshoppers this season, and—bless my soul! think you touched me there———

"Mere scratch—little patch cover it all—great many grasshoppers—singing in the fields—eh?—jump like all nature—Eh? greatest jumpers in this country."

"Never was so bitten by me quitos since I followed the seas, pursued the Captain. Nearly eaten up by 'em to day—dogged me over the river like sharks—had to put down the oars a dozen times. Beats everything I ever did see! Same with flies—got 'em here pretty thick too?"

"Flies—yes—will come in—buzz—buzzing all day long—bad sign!—Eh? going to be sickly—Eh?—somebody going to die—Eh? Said so to Grabb the grave-digger!—'Neighborhood Grubb, some suds are to be turned on Copp's Hill this fall!—wasn't I right?—Eh?"

"Things do not look well, I must confess."

"Raise as many pigs on other side as usual this year, Eh? They tell of droves going in that direction. Hear 'em squeal sometimes when the wind is right. Great place for pork? Eh?"

"Pigs very much troubled with the measles this season and won't do well. Bad year all round. Anything new stirring in these parts?"

"Yes—no—Gov. Belcher's got the tooth-ache, shaved him this morning—face puffed out like a toad's, makes him grin—Eh?—offered to pull the tooth—acted shy, so let it ache, Eh?"

"Sartain."

"And speaking of teeth—the dogs—burn 'em! are all going mad—bite like satan—eh?"

"Yes and keep you awake these hot nights by their howling and growling."

"Great growlers—sir—great growlers—but, bless me! What is that crowd in the street—eh? What's happened? eh?—and Stephen stepped out of doors upon the sidewalk to look."

"Stop her! stop her!" was the cry at the upper end of the street. There was a large brindled cow, rushing down towards them at a prodigious rate, with several men and boys at her heels, armed with clubs, who shouted—

"Stop her! stop her."

"What is it—what is it—eh?" asked the barber, hurriedly.

"Granny Griskin's cow—'s mad!"—said a boy.

"Eh? cow—bit—mad dog—eh?"

The furious animal was now just upon them, when she made a lurch and aimed her horns directly at the barber as he stood staring with amazement from the sidewalk.

"Stop her! stop her!" they cried.

"Stop her Stephen!"

"Stop her!"

"Stop the devil!" said Stephen, dodging into his door and closing it while the cow passed on. "I think I've got better business than that to do—eh?" Stop her! indeed! Let granny Griskin stop her own cows—the old witch—to many old women about Captain, eh?—witches—all of 'em."

"They ought to be ducked!"

"Or hung—all of 'em."

"Make a great deal of mischief!"

"Yes, all of 'em."

"Setting dogs mad—giving hogs the measles—laning horses—putting chimneys on fire—they are a public nuisance!"

"All of 'em—all of 'em."

"And should be put out of the way at once."

"All of 'em, said Stephen, putting up his razor, yes Captain, "all of 'em."

"All of 'em" echoed the Captain decisively as he walked off.

* Charles Town was once as celebrated a place for raising hogs as Hingham is for producing hen's eggs.

An official record of the population of Boston, in 1740, states that "there are 1200 widows, of whom 1000 are poor." It also specifies the cows and colored people in each ward.

Bathos.—The following amusing specimen of bathos is translated from a French writer. In the sinking paragraph is a very ingenious sarcasm:

"I ask not, in regard to Japan, whether this mass of islands is much greater than England, Ireland and the Oracles together; whether the Emperor of Japan is more powerful than the Emperor of Germany, or whether the Japanese bronzes are richer than the Spanish monks. I will even unhesitatingly avow, that banished as we are to the confines of the West, we have more genius than they, all favored as they are by the rising sun. Our tragedies and comedies are thought better; we have made more progress in astronomy, mathematics, paintings, sculpture and music. And what is more, they have nothing which approaches to our Burgundy and Champaigne!"

Anecdotes.—Anecdotes are the essence of history as bon mots are the essence of wit. Could all history be epitomized into a regular series of historical anecdotes, we are of opinion that the world would become wiser by it. History, as it is generally written in an indiscriminate mass of interesting and uninteresting details—the last of which predominates to such a degree, that it requires the highest exercise of studious patience to read it. History is of importance only so far as it aids philosophy. The philosopher skims over the surface of the books, and gathers only the essence of wit. Could all history be anecdotes—he trouble himself but little to acquire a knowledge of mere chronicles. It is from anecdotes, that we have acquired almost all our knowledge of the great men of all ages. How little should we know about them, if all we learned was gathered from the dull pages of a regular history?

Force of Custom.—In a very old English work we read the following curious anecdote illustrative of the effects of custom:

"The lady of a very large, corpulent gentleman being lately indisposed, thought proper to have a bed by herself that she might repose the better by lying alone. But she was quite mistaken in her notion; for instead of sleeping better without her husband, she could not sleep at all; and the reason of it, which may seem a very odd one, was this: that she found she wanted her husband, who was a loud snorer, to snore her to sleep; her not hearing this noise, being a great hindrance to her rest, as the hearing it would have been to one not used to it."

The Female eye.—A modern writer gives the following enumeration of a female eye:

"The glaze, the stare, the leer, the sneer, the invitation, the defiance, the denial, the consent, the glance of love, the flash of rage, the sparkling of hope, the languishing of softness, the squint of suspicion, the fire of jealousy, and the lustre of pleasure."

Mr. Snelling has withdrawn from the Morning News, and intends to start a new paper.

THE STATE ELECTION.

The democrats throughout the State have done nobly—our vote will be larger than any that has been cast within ten years, except that given last November, and within a few thousand of that. This must satisfy the federalists that democrats cannot be frightened nor bribed from their duty—nor annihilated—so easily as some of their wits imagine—the federal papers swelled like bladders yesterday, but a small puncture will let all their extra gas out. We publish returns this morning from 156 towns, about half the whole number in the State, and MARCUS MORTON has received in these 22,444!

Last year his whole vote was $6,067.

The federalists were crowing on Monday night at the reported defeat of Mr. Rantoul in Gloucester, but their express rider left before half of the votes had been polled—the Sandy Bay boys marched up in solid columns, and elected Mr. Rantoul and his democratic associates with all the ease in the world. The federal candles will get snuffed closer than their owners thought for, yet. But never did our enemies use such exertions before—every mode of electioneering that could be devised has been adopted and practised, backed by the United States Bank agents from Kentucky, Tennessee, New York and Louisiana. Yet the effect of the late election upon the democracy of Massachusetts will be far different from what our opponents anticipate—it will not intimidate nor dishearten them, but stimulate them to more strenuous exertions—to examine well their ranks—nail the OLD STANDARD of democracy to the staff, and rally around it with an unalterable resolution to contend until it waves in triumph. Henceforth let us hear no more about political abolitionism, anti-masonry, loco-focoism, or anything else but pure old fashioned democracy in our party—Jeffersonian, Madisonian, Jacksonian and Van Buren democracy—let the objects we strive for be plainly defined—our principles clearly set forth, and then to battle.

New York Election.—The returns for members of the Assembly, as far as heard, give 21 democrats and 97 federalists. The Journal of Commerce says—

"There remain to be heard from Cattaraugus, which elects 2 members, Broome 1, Delaware 2, Franklin 1, Sullivan 2, Niagara 2, which will probably elect 7 whigs and 3, Van Buren men. This will make the Assembly stand—

Whigs Van Buren 104

Van Buren 24

Whig maj. 80

Last year—Van Buren 84

Whigs 34

Van Buren maj. 50

Whig gain 70

Either 78 or 80 will probably be the Whig majority in the House."

There is a spirit of honest fortitude manifested by the democrats of New York, in view of their disasters, that even the whigs must be constrained to respect. The New Times—the new democratic journal noticed in the Post last week—makes the following remarks:

"There is no need to be discouraged! our own native energy, aided by the natural propensity of the whigs, to blunder, and above their victory, will soon convert this check to democracy into a salutary lesson which may be turned to profit, and save the country from the ruin threatened to its institutions, and forever overthrow the hopes of those who have liberty in their mouths, but a lurking spirit of exclusive aristocracy in their hearts."

We have received a statement signed by Mr. E. A. Lester, and twenty-two others, saying that if the Communication published in the Post yesterday, asserting that the head of a
